Presidents Discuss College

Dr. Alphus Christensen

At a meeting held in the cafeteria during convocation Wednesday, Alphus Christensen, President of Rio Grande College, dispelled all rumors of a merger between Rio Grande College and Ohio University.

According to President Christensen, "We are going to establish a Community College on the Rio Grande campus if the voters are willing next spring."

All Rio Grande students are urged to register to vote by Oct. 10, so they will be able to make their opinions known.

If the proposed Community College goes into effect, instructional fees for a full time resident student will be $630 per year. Students living outside the district, made up of Gallia, Jackson, Meigs, and Vinton counties, will have $75 added to their fee, making the cost $705. Out of state students will not be able to pay the reduced Community College fee. Their tuition will be the regular $850, as will be the tuition for Juniors and Seniors.

The Community College will be comprised of a two year course with an Arts and Sciences Division, a Technical Program, and a division of Adult Education.

Students wishing to continue their studies beyond the two-year course can transfer their credits to the regular college.

The only change that will affect the students when the Community College is established is that the academic year will be divided into quarters. This will in no way hurt present Juniors or Seniors.

Doug Fields, Student Body President, also spoke during Convocation, informing the student body about voter registration. He wants all students to realize that the Community College is a political issue, not only a higher education issue, in Southeastern Ohio.

In order for the Community College to become a reality, it must be passed by the Rio Grande College District which is made up of Vinton, Meigs, Jackson and

Admissions and Records Prospect Program

A number of students have volunteered their time and efforts to help the Office of Admissions and Records in their growing efforts to recruit new students for Rio Grande College.

These students, who compose the Prospective Student Staff, sincerely feel that Rio has something to offer its students and they are trying to convey this message to prospective students.

The Prospective Student Program, made up of these students, has two main divisions: the Student Field Staff and the Intern Staff. The members of the Student Field Staff are: Brian David Drew, Tom Westen, Dane Rogers, Pat Houck, Vincent Hill, Trip Armbruster, Phyllis Alderdice, Chic Penn, Bill Davis, Terry Osborne, Jim Chapman, Ed Sayre and John McKinley.

Members of the Intern Staff are: Clare Fletcher, Nancy Ellis,

The students composing the Prospective Student Program have wide and varied duties that include such things as campus tours, college nights, the pickup and delivery of prospective students, and numerous other related activities.

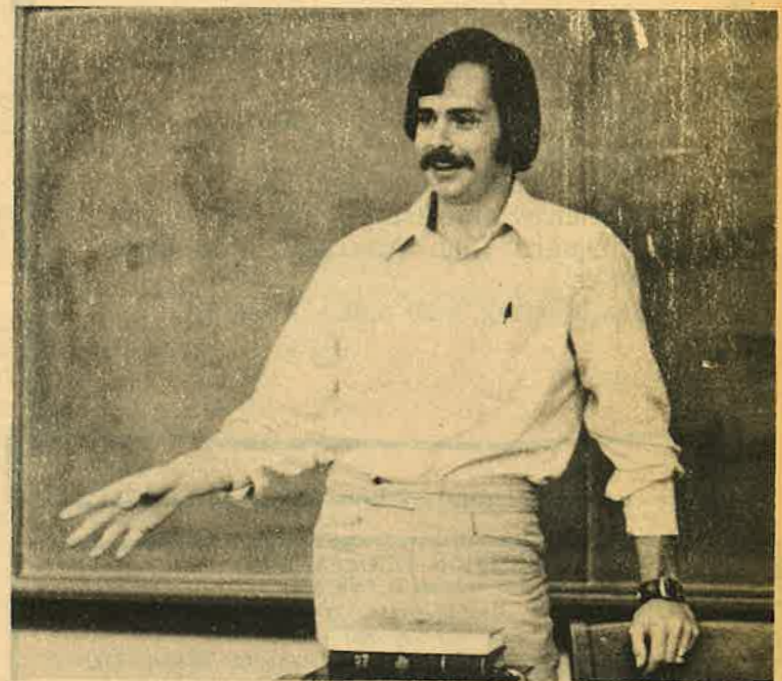

The Office and Admissions and Records feels that the greatest and most valuable source of College interest comes from within the student populace. For this reason, Rio Grande College and the Office of Admissions and Records would like to thank these students who have volunteered to help their college in the recruitment of new students and welcomes the interest of all students.

Student Explains His Answer To Drug Problem Today

A return student after six years, a rehabilitated drug addict, and a minister — this partially describes William Beagle. He has talked to four classes, two speech and two physical education classes, about drugs and the answer to the drug addiction problem.

Bill's answer is simply, "Jesus". His answer was received generously, if not unanimously. Bill, himself, is his example that Christ can cure addiction. Once an addict, he now pastors five churches in Cheshire, Ohio. Beagle is a "revolutionary" Christian. If asked about his faith he replies "I am a Christian." Beagle does not fit the general classification of today's preachers. He energetically proclaims his belief in the power of God to solve the drug problem or any problem which exists in the world.

Hollis Stern, a member of both speech classes, to which Beagle spoke, said she believed he is sincere and one of the "real" people. On the other hand another student proclaimed "He's a good guy; I like him but he's out of his mind. Other people have quit drugs without the usual withdrawal symptoms."

Bill, not one to leave projects to

"the other guy", started a prayer meeting in the Kayettes room in the basement of Davis Hall. It is held every weekday at 7:15 a.m.

BLACK STUDENTS ELECT OFFICERS

Members of the black student body of Rio Grande College have elected new leaders to represent their Black Student Union (B.S.U.). Lloyd Brewton has been elected President of the BSU. Lloyd, a sophomore from Lodi, New Jersey, will serve for the 1972-73 school year campaign. Brenda Scott, a junior from Columbus, Ohio, was voted in as Vice President. Last year Brenda served as Treasurer for the BSU. Along with Lloyd and Brenda La Vetta Marbury and Renee Orr have been elected as Secretary and Treasurer respectively. La Vetta is a freshman from Columbus, Ohio, and Renee from Cincinnati, Ohio, is also a freshman.

This year's president hopes to promote black unity, and cultural awareness among black students. The BSU has tentatively scheduled to have guest speakers, concerts, informal rap sessions, and the traditional Black Cultural Week.

Plans are being formulated to have the BSU center (formerly Bohn House) open on a somewhat daily basis. Working without the help of an advisor, the BSU officials hope to mobilize activities to help ameliorate the image of black students here on campus. Also this year the BSU hopes to develop some type of community relations, not necessarily the community that surrounds Rio Grande College, but communities outside of the area. A project which is

Editorial Comment

When I began this year I told myself I would not write a complaint column. I suppose I was wrong.

Tuesday night a group of students were singing and playing a guitar on the green in front of Community Hall. There was nothing wrong with that, but when they left that night, beer cans, beer bottles, and paper was left lying on the grass. The next morning maintenance men had to pick up the trash.

Wednesday the post office boxes were stuffed with campaign flyers and other "junk" mail. Few Rio students noticed that a waste can is placed in the post office to receive the trash they feel they must throw away.

Walking over the campus one sees glasses, originally from the cafeteria, sitting on the benches, steps, and grass. We do pay for these glasses and dishes which are so carelessly thrown around.

Rio's resident students range from age 17 to 24; every student fitting this age range should be mature enough to accept the responsibility of keeping our campus clean and respectable in appearance.

Eleven more days until the deadline for voter registration; have you registered yet? If not, please do so to let the Community College District hear your voice.

Sisters of all Sororities,
We would like to thank all of you for the lovely flowers which were sent on the occasion of our daughter's birth. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoff.

Letter

Dear Editor:

Please direct this to the Administration of Rio Grande College

I am writing concerning the hours that the post office doors are open on Saturday. Most people find it hard to drag themselves out of bed before 12 o'clock noon to receive their mail. Is it possible to extend the hours the doors will be unlocked?

A late sleeper!

Psalm 31:5

What do you do when you are troubled? When your soul experiences misfortune? When bound by the hands of the Devil? When your eye is swallowed up with grief and your soul and belly is in turmoil? When you feel so weak and all hope seems gone? When you feel dishonor and fear? When you are forgotten as a dead man — completely out of mind? When you think of yourself as a broken vessel? When lies cut you down? When you feel "cut off" from God's eyes? When the Devil lays traps before you and every step is hounded?

David said "I am in trouble so into thy hand I commit my spirit." There is nothing else you can do except trust in the will of God, for "We all know that all things work together for good to them that love God." Be of good cheer and He will strengthen your heart, all ye that trust in the Lord.

When you cannot go another step, just commit your Spirit into the hands of the Lord, always be of good cheer and wait for Him to send strength and help.

Gallia counties. A special election will be held in the spring for this purpose.

The deadline for voter registration in Gallia County is October 10, 1972. All students, first time or previously registered, are urged to register at the courthouse in Gallipolis. Students should get in and register as soon as possible. Transportation can be made available for those students who find it difficult to get into Gallipolis.

Rio Grande College forms a block of 600 voters, which could easily sway the election in Gallia County. Local politicians and political figureheads realize this, and the student registration drive will cause increased political activity on campus.

Previously, students of Rio Grande College were unable to vote in local elections. Now, no one can be rejected for registration as long as he meets the residency requirements.

The residency requirement for Gallia County is 30 days, and Rio Grande College students meet this requirement. Therefore, there is no reason for students not to register. This election will effect the students on this campus, and they are all urged to make their opinions known.

The Student Senate brought forth the following resolution Wednesday at the Convocation:

Whereas; Ohio University has nothing substantial to offer Rio Grande College, and

Whereas; a Rio Grande-Ohio University merger would suggest a disservice to the Rio Grande College Community, and

Whereas; such a merger would cause a net loss in the total worth of higher education in Southeastern Ohio, and

Whereas, the four county Community College would substantially improve higher education in Southeastern Ohio, THEREFORE!

Be it resolved by the Rio Grande College Student Senate, representing the Student Body, that:

WE ARE IN FAVOR OF ESTABLISHMENT OF THE RIO GRANDE COMMUNITY COLLEGE AND STAND AGAINST NEGOTIATIONS IN ANY FORM TOWARD A MERGER WITH OHIO UNIVERSITY.

Humphreys Joins Staff

Carl Robert Humphreys has joined the faculty at Rio Grande College. He will teach biology, zoology and anatomy, and will work with students in the medical laboratory technology program. A former biology and microbiology instructor at Kent State University, Humphreys received his bachelor's degree from Nasson College, Springfield, Maine and his masters from Kent State. He taught at Kent State and its branches for two years and worked on his doctoral degree last year.

"Having graduated from a small, liberal arts college," Humphreys said, "I can recognize the benefits of such an educational setting. I feel that the close working relationships between faculty and students developed on a small-college campus can be very beneficial."

Cross Country Team Takes Two

Captain Jackie Finch and teammate Ken Sanders crossed the finish line in stride, sparking the Cross Country team to a 19-40 victory over Muskingum. It was the first dual meet of the young season for the Rio Redmen.

The Redmen easily won the meet as they captured five of the top seven places. Finch and Sanders, arms locked together, tied for first with a winning time of 28:21; Bruce Melton finished fourth with a time of 29:18; Stacey Osborne finished fifth with a time of 29:50; Kevin Honnold came in seventh with a time of 30:34.

Bonasorte placed highest for Muskingum, finishing third with a time of 28:48. Barkacs finished sixth, Schnobel eighth, Forshey eleventh, and Sittler twelfth for the Muskingum team.

Our Cross Country team, full of youth and talent, will go on the road Saturday, facing Cedarville in a dual meet. Next week the team goes farther on the road as they attend the Marion College Invitational in Marion, Indiana.

Last week Rio Grande Redmen successfully defended their title in the Golden Bear Mountain Climb last Friday at West Virginia Tech. The charges of Coach Bruce Curtis won impressively by claiming seven of the top nine spots.

Jeff Borbely, a freshman runner for Concord College, placed first. The Beckley product completed the rugged climb in thirty-one minutes and twelve seconds. Final team scoring saw Rio Grande with 20 points, Concord placed second, West Virginia Tech third, and Morris Harvey fourth.

Redmen completely dominated the action with an excellent effort from the veteran performers and a tremendous showing by the freshmen members headed by Mike Gross' fourth place finish.

Last year's winner, Rio's Ken Sanders was second with a time of 31:26. The Redmen continued to place with Jack Finch coming in third, Gross fourth, sophomore Stacy Osborne, fifth, then Kevin Honnold sixth, Bruce Melton was seventh and Eddie Sayre, ninth.

Redmen cross-country team, made up exclusively by juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, will entertain Muskingum College, an Ohio Conference team Wednesday afternoon at Evan's Field beginning at four o'clock. The public is invited to attend. The Redmen, in winning the Golden Bear Mountain Climb possibly will see two or three of the teams they beat Friday at Rio's cross country invitational October 14th. The College, in related to this issue is that the black BSU may get together and clean up a Pomeroy cemetery in which black veterans of World War I are buried.

Another thing which BSU officials feel is of the utmost concern is supporting other colleges, and the BSU programs. Just this past Wednesday a group of BSU members went up to Marietta College to help support their Black Cultural Week which is going on now. In return, Rio's BSU will get support from schools.

The Center is still in the developmental stage, and BSU members are accepting donations of such things as lamps, chairs, bulletin boards and anything else that would be helpful to that matter.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Team 4 rolled to an easy victory over Team 1, winning 36-6. The victory was led by Terry Osborne, who started the scoring on a 1-yard run and then proceeded to put on some aerial antics that resulted in four TD passes and three pairs of extra points. Goose Barcus caught a 40-yarder, Tim Staten held on to a 44-yarder and also scored one set of extra points on a pass play, and George Berndsen caught two TD passes, a 3-yarder and a 8-yarder, besides catching two pairs of extra points. Team 1's only score came as Ski Godinski caught a short pass from Tom Mills and rumbled forty yards for the score.

In the other Monday game Team 3 beat Team 5 by a score of 12-0. No details on how Team 3 scored in this defensive battle. Which brings us to ask all team organizers to please give the outcome of each game and who scored to Ski Godinsky, or, if you have trouble finding him, to Ron Boggs (Rm. 308-Holzer).

Swim Team Opens Season

Rio Grande's Women's swim team opens its 1972 season Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at the Lyne Center pool. Rio Grande will host Muskingum College to begin their second year of competition.

The Rio swimmers are coached by Gale Hendricks, a graduate of Sam Houston State University. It's Ms. Hendricks first year of coaching at Rio Grande.

Rio, in starting a girls swim team last year, did not win a meet in four starts. Prospects appear brighter this fall with a squad of four juniors, three sophomores and a freshman.

The Rio swimming team will participate in six meets.

Coach Hendrick feels Rio is strong in the free style, the 100 yard individual medley and the 200 yard distance events this year.

Saturday's meet at Lyne Center is open to the public.

The members of the swim team are: Deb Tesi, Cary Coutts, Penn, Deb Carr, Karyn Williams, Army Porotofe, Janice Williams, Ellen Luttrell, Jane Gaul.
